Communication Tools

Problem 1

Not having a simple platform to store his customer's information in a way that suit his needs.

Problem 2

Lacking a way to match customer information to the priority and progress of the work done.

Problem 3

Losing track of when was the last time he has had contact with a customer.

THIS IS FRANK.

Frank is a freelance software engineer working with multiple customers at once.

Frank's Requirements

Customer Relationship Management (CRM)

A web app

Notifications for upcoming meetings and for when too much time has passed since last contact with customer

Assign and identify progress and priority to customer

Phone book design

Access customers quickly and easily via a phone book like main page.

Cohesive profiles

View profile pages for customers with all the information you need.

Organised systems

Track and update customer progress and priority, monitor meeting days and contact.

OUR SOLUTION.

Our solution, as informed by our client's requirements.
